SplashMaps' Scott Forbes takes on the Ultra Series in 2015

Today (14/2/15) SplashMaps announces its Ultra Marathon Sponsorship - Meet the indestructible Scott Forbes, our Ultra Marathon Champion at stand OU1222. Scott has an amazing background, representing Great Britain in cross country Mountain Biking before a tragic accident caused a radical life change and discovery of a new skill.

"When I broke my neck I thought it was over for me. In my string of 7 operations I thought it was over for my sporting career," says Scott. "I returned to my schoolboy love of running to test what I could achieve. Just like my recovery, running long distances is truly a mental game."

Scott signed-up as SplashMaps' Ultra Marathon runner for 2015 having already won the Race for the Stones 100 last summer. "Scotts own 'indestructible story' is an inspiration for anyone recovering from near fatal injuries. SplashMaps reputation for being tough, practical and resistant to all the snags of other forms of navigation makes this a perfect match" says SplashMaps MD David Overton.

And right at the beginning of their season together Scott bagged the first SplashMaps Ultra Marathon Silver by coming second in the gruelling muddy slog of the Thames Trott 50 mile race organised by Go Beyond Ultra.

Meet the SplashMaps team at Stand OU1222 during the Daily Telegraph Outdoors & Adventure Travel Show. Scott will be at the stand on Saturday.
